

2024 Bands of America Championship final regional is in St. George, Utah, on Nov. 9.
30 high school marching bands will compete for the regional championship title

ST. GEORGE, UTAH- High School marching band students from across the region will perform at the Bands of America Utah Regional Championship presented by Yamaha, Saturday, Nov. 9 at Greater Zion Stadium at Utah Tech University.

Bands from California, Colorado, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico, and across Utah will compete. Bands of America Championships are the nation's premier marching band events, showcasing outstanding student musicians and visual performances.

This event is hosted by Utah Tech University and American Fork High School.

There will be an exhibition performance by the Utah Tech University Roar of the Red Rocks Marching Band following the conclusion of the preliminary competition at 4:15 p.m.

"Marching band is even more than music and performance; it's a powerful experience that builds discipline, teamwork, and lifelong memories," says Dr. Jeremy Earnhart, President and CEO of Music for All, the parent organization for Bands of America. "Participating in Bands of America Championships takes that to the next level, challenging high school students to strive for excellence, showcase their talents on a national stage, and feel the pride of being part of something truly extraordinary.”

Bands take the field for preliminary competition performances at 7:30 a.m. Doors will open to the public at 7:00 a.m. Times are subject to change, visit marching.musicforall.org for the latest event schedule.

Performances will be evaluated by a panel of nationally recognized music educators and marching band experts. The 12 highest-scoring bands will advance to the evening finals with the top-scoring band named champion at the end of the night. The first competing finalist band is at 7:30 p.m. with gates opening at 6:30 p.m.

The Bands of America Championships season includes 30 events across America, culminating with the Bands of America Grand National Championships next weekend at Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis.
